COMPOSITION II

T

Texas Woman's University

What has been the best aspect of this course?

- The teacher is a great guy. And the minerva was participation. In my last class because I got screwed over by the first minerva test and had to work the entire semester to try and bring my grade back up from hell. Thank you so much for being logical and making it completion.
- The explanation of each homework assignment that were given to the students
- N/A
- I learned how to write fairly well over the course and I learned how to incorporate the subjects he was teaching us in class.
- Communication; Even though the course is a hybrid class the professor maintained open communication throughout the year weather it was used by the student or not.
- This course helped improve my writing skills.
- Even though we had strict time frames, there was always enough time to get everything done.

Would you change anything about this course? If so, what would you change?

- I can't stand the online aspect of the class. Honestly I took this class because I can't stand English and I thought having it once a week would make it less impactful on my life. But wow was I wrong (lesson learned, my fault)But the online part of this class sucked! I would rather just have to do a second assignment for the class by the end of the week. But being forced to reply to others? No thank you. Not sure how forcing people to communicate is really going to help us learn at all. All that is doing is forcing us to do busy work. What does writing on someone elses post have to do with English? Hell if I know. If there was no response requirement the class would have been WAY better and I would have participated more. And other classes I know are doing presentations and writing just a part for their last paper. That would be nice for those of us who aren't going into English (99.99% of people)
- No, the instructor is doing a fine job
- N/A
- I don't think I would change anything about this course.
- No more group projects. For a hybrid class I do not agree with having group projects because it is hard to get together with your group members.
- The work load was overwhelming. Before I could complete one assignment I had several more emails. Making it harder to prepare for my other classes.

Would you change anything about this course? If so, what would you change?

- No

- Honestly I really liked the teacher as a person, but some of the things he did really made me dislike the class even more.
- N/A
- Mr. Evans is a great professor, He was really helpful and got on what ever level you were on to help you understand what you were writing about etc. Great course!
- I actually kinds enjoyed this class
